DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of Group I in the reply filed on June 21, 2004 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that Applicant states that Group I and Group II differ on a basis of combination and subcombination. This is not found persuasive because the features in Claim 1, such as the first and second steps of laser irradiation, are not in Claim 3, and the features in Claim 3, such as the control of air bubbles, are not in Claim 1.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over USPN 4,839,497 to Sankar et al in view of USPN 6,208,458 to Galvanauskas et al. Sankar et al describe (column 1, line 20) glass reinforced polymers and describe (column 2, line 8) epoxy glass. Sankar et al describe (column 3, lines 22-42) the various lasers which can be used in the invention and Sankar et al describe (column 4, lines 7-20) the use of two lasers having first and second pulse widths. Sankar et al further describe (column 4, lines 9 and 10) the two lasers can be used sequentially, in any combination, or simultaneously. Galvanauskas et al describe (column 12, line 41+) the use of a variable pulse laser and describe (column 16, lines 14+) the use of laser machining of various materials including glass. The use of a variable pulse width laser in the Sankar et al process would have been obvious at the time applicant's invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art because the single variable width pulse laser eliminates the requirement for two laser apparatus.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Haruta et al, Noddin, and McKee et al describe laser irradiation using first and second lasers.
